Our pride in Pacific High School increased this year as we welcomed our first foreign exchange student. Gloria Sarmiento came from Peru with many hopes and dreams of what America would be like. When she arrived, she was not too surprised to find that teenagers are essentially the same everywhere. We all enjoy attending dances, games, club meetings, and other extra-curricular activities. We enjoy the feeling of satisfaction that comes when we work hard in our studies and are able to measure our accomplishments. Perhaps in Gloria's homeland they enjoy different sports, activities, and classes than we do, but the initiative, the determination, and, most of all, the spirit it takes to achieve in these respects exists throughout the world.

We often overlook this aspect of school life until we have the opportunity to "See ourselves as others see us." Gloria gave us the chance to take such a look at ourselves.

With this in mind, we now take a new view of Pacific High School during the 1962-1963 school year through "the eyes of others."

Dedication

Sandy Marcus

The students of Pacific
High School are proud to dedicate the 1962-63
VALHALLA to . . .

Mr. Richard Shaffer

He's always on the job . . .
at special events,

with the Student Council,

" *S*ophomores! Where are you?"

" *J*uniors! Where are you?"

" *S*eniors! Where are you?"

*F*rom Mr. Richard Shaffer came this battle cry of the 1962-63 school year. These challenges were only a hint of the new and increased school spirit he was to engender.

*A*s Director of Student Activities, Mr. Shaffer was responsible for many additions to extra-curricular events. Through his efforts the first exchange rally with San Leandro High School was held. He crowned our Sports Queen, Princess, and Attendant, and watched as they were driven around the field in convertibles for which he had arranged. He encouraged us to raise money for our American Field Service program through a school-wide chocolate bar sale and then supervised the sale. He directed the Christmas Training Program in which over 200 students participated. He worked closely with the Student Council as it formulated improved and more effective programs. He totaled points for students qualifying in the honors and awards program and organized the assembly program for presentation of blocks and certificates. Mr. Shaffer attended every major athletic event, every rally, every dance, every assembly, every other important activity of the year. At practically any hour of the day or night he could be seen helping students to answer the question, "Vikings! Where are you?"

and in the classroom.

We play.

Pacific High - a big, bustling, busy school.
Three years old. Two stories tall. Over a thousand strong.

Pacific High - raw, pretty much untried, but growing as a lanky adolescent grows:
still discovering itself,
still wondering at itself,
still unsure of itself
in the "eyes of others."

Pacific High - a school with promise; a sprawling giant with a future.

We work.

We socialize.

To others, the students of Pacific display a many faceted image. They are at once shy and outgoing, serious and ludicrous, intent and relaxed. But always, and inescapably, they are alive.

A rich blend of personalities, Pacific's student body exhibits a variety and diversity of people that is unique and wholly complete.

Pacific's Administrators

Through anyone's eyes Mr. A. Winston Richards would be seen as the beloved and respected patriarch of Pacific High School. Principal since the school opened, Mr. Richards guided Pacific through its stormiest era and played a major role in establishing school policy and traditions. He has literally taught Pacific to stand on its feet, then to walk, and now to run. A familiar on-campus figure, he enjoys a pleasant, but well defined camaraderie with students.

Tall and pleasant, Mr. Ellerth Larson has won the respect of students and faculty alike as vice-principal.

Mr. Larson aided in the formulation of the curriculum plans for such unique programs as the Honors Program and the team teaching used in American Government.

He's the man responsible for correlating class schedules, counseling sessions, and testing programs.

Honors

New laws recently made available certain limited funds in order to encourage local school districts in developing special programs for their "mentally gifted." Pacific High immediately answered the challenge.

Under the guidance of Mr. Ellerth Larson, vice principal, and Miss Nan Albright, dean, the Honors Program soon became a reality. The Program is presently on a trial basis and will be evaluated at the end of this, its first year.

Judy Taylor and Barbara Savery research for their individual projects.

Members of the Honors Program listen attentively to Mrs. Eleanor Beach, who spoke on "The Study of Mankind."

"Eggheads All"

The Honors Program provides almost unlimited scholastic opportunities for the students selected to participate.

Regular meetings are held once a week, usually on Wednesday afternoons, and generally revolve around a speaker.

Student members of the group are permitted release from classrooms in order to work on projects. These projects are not assigned, and a student is given free rein in selecting one.

In addition, "Buzz Sessions" are held once a month. These are conversational "free-for-alls," and are generally held at the homes of faculty members.

The variety of speakers to which the Honors Group listened was endless. Here Dr. George Hedley, professor of sociology and Mills College chaplain, addressed the group.

They Sell

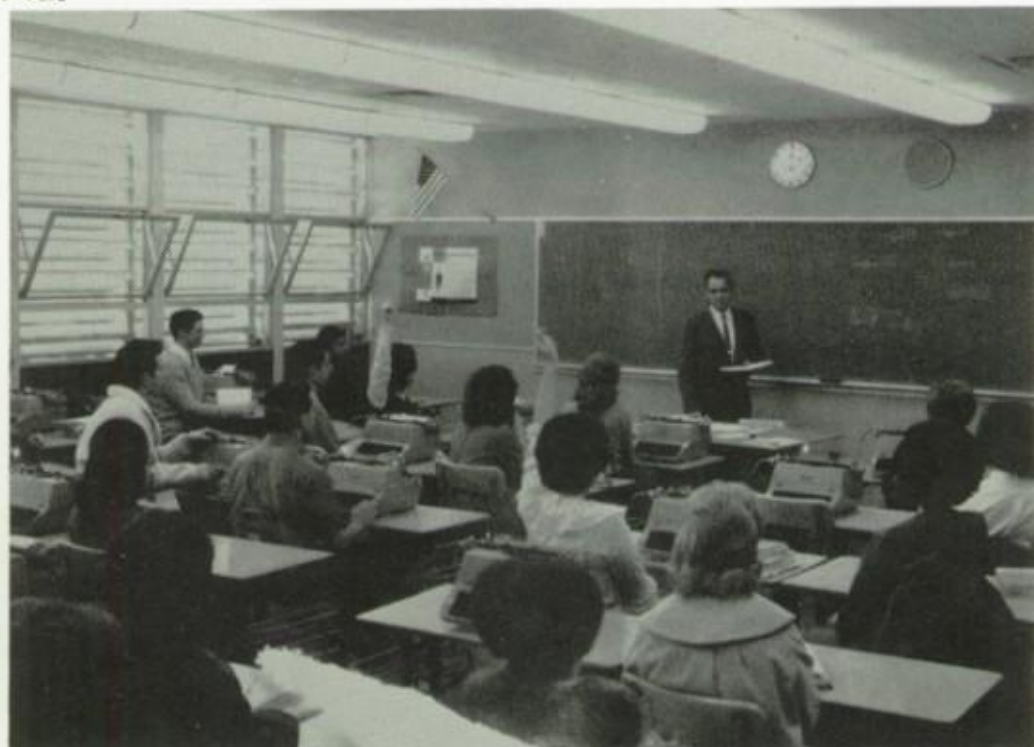

Sixth Period

Janet Bathurst gives her sales pitch as Ron Patterson, Jim Truex, Mr. Shaffer, Kathy Williams and Sharon Blackman look on.

Newest addition to Pacific's curriculum, the Merchandising class is a unique blend of the practical and the scholastic.

Mr. Shaffer, who conducts the class sixth period in Room 206, teaches students the fundamentals of merchandising, which they then apply in such unique ways as delivering sales promotion talks and developing sales campaigns.

Mr. Shaffer conducts a class session in sales technique.

Viks Learn "Soft Sell"

Students interested in qualifying for the program were administered a simple mathematical test, which, if passed, entitled them to receive the free training. Upon completion of the course, which ran from December 6 to December 14, many students applied for jobs, and most of them successfully obtained employment.

Mr. Shaffer lectures the group on merchandising procedures.

They Create—

Vikings who like to dabble in paints and to create through sculpture are generally at home in the Arts and Crafts rooms. Under the instruction of Mr. David McLaughlin and Mr. Peter Palm, students learn the basics of artistic creativity and are given the opportunity to exercise their skills.

Jack Brazell serves as a willing model for an art student.

Mr. Peter Palm shows two students how to reproduce Good News programs.

Dolores Flores and Joann Medeiros paint plaster casts in their 5th period crafts class.

"Miracles" in Room 102

Dr. Simmons assists Robert Methvin with the microscope.

In-class lecture: Two interested students listen, enraptured.

Room 102 is filled with "miracles"--the miracles of discovery and of fascination, the miracles of things that move and grow, the miracles of death and of life--and with wide-eyed students seeking and finding, answers to the age-old questions, "Why?" and "How?"

Room 102- presided over by Dr. Gordon Simmons-is, in itself, a near miracle.

One of the few schools in the area permitted to teach physiology, Pacific High is justly proud of "102," where sophomore biology is also taught.

"Turn oven to 375, and cook slowly for one hour." Dan Fuller and Ed Sequeira practice their culinary skill on a cat.

Gloria Sarmiento, exchange student from Peru, joined the Viking clan early this September and was soon caught in the rip-tides of Pacific's activities. While making some observations on life in Viking-land, Gloria remarked, "It is so different - and so busy!"

"New Views"

Although Gloria was forced to leave Pacific in November, because of poor health, she enjoyed participating in Pacific's activities for the short time that she was here.

The air raid drill, which occurred in early November, exposed Gloria to some very laughable campus scenes (with more serious undertones).

Gloria, who was enrolled in the Senior Class, took part in the mock presidential elections held in American Government classes and seemed to appreciate the American electoral process.

Seniors

"Through the eyes of others" seniors may be hard to distinguish from other Vikings. Some can be recognized by the "slightly glazed look in the eyes," which characterizes "Senioritis," a disease which strikes during a class discussion, or when reading a book, or when warm spring days arrive. Other seniors may be identified at the events distinctly for seniors, the senior show, the picnic, the dinner, the Ball, and most of all, graduation. Many still find time to guide the Viking ship in the leadership of the student body and the clubs.

We also hope that "others see" in us our determination and ambition to facing the world we are soon to enter, courageously and successfully, for this has been the whole purpose behind our work these last 12 years.

Two seniors depart Pacific's portals for the last time.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

We were the first sophomores at Pacific and the first to complete all three years of high school here. Just about everyone must have become a little dizzy from running around in circles trying to find his classes, which were usually not even there when he did arrive. Going to six different classes and filling out fifteen different cards and papers prepared us for the homework that the teachers would pile on later. Since there were only sophomores and juniors at Pacific High we had one lunch and a snack after second period, which made everyone happy. Our major social event was the "Sophomore Hop," which was the Christmas Dance that year. The varsity football team bravely entered A. C. A. L. competition and had a consistent, if not spectacular, season by winning every other game.

JUNIOR YEAR

"In a Garden of Dreams" was the theme for the Junior Prom, April 27, 1962. In order to raise extra money for this dance the class board sold ink pens with the basketball schedule on the barrels. Juniors dominated the Honor Roll that semester by placing 33 members on the list, while the seniors came second with 24 and the sophomores third with 18. And who can forget the night Pacific's varsity basketball team edged the San Leandro High Pirates 46-45 in a game which went into overtime.

Our SENIOR year was the best year of school. This is the year that every sophomore and junior waits for. We had fun washing cars at the SENIOR Car Wash and washing windows to finance our SENIOR activities: The SENIOR Breakfast, SENIOR Show, SENIOR Picnic, SENIOR Dinner, SENIOR Skate, SENIOR Slave Day, and, best of all, our SENIOR Ball at the Claremont Hotel. A SENIOR feels a little sad when he thinks of graduating; until now he's spent practically all his life going to school and suddenly these days are coming to an end for many of us. With twelve years of school gone and a few minutes left, we finally reach graduation and go our separate ways. We of the VALHALLA staff wish all Seniors "Success and Happiness!"

Nominations for this year's Senior Class Poll were made at a class assembly. As many as 94 names appeared on the final ballots, which were tallied after elections held in Senior classes. Competition for all the titles was keen; however, no tie-votes occurred. The only grad-to-be qualifying in two categories was Sheila Steele, who was named for both "Best Personality" and as a member of the "Cutest Couple."

Features

A school is not scholastic in nature alone - the facets of a school's personality are as varied and complex as are the components of human nature itself. Even as a school is globes and test tubes and massive volumes, so is it after school meetings, dances, playing in the band, and acting in the school play.

Pacific, as "seen by others," is a unique and wholly satisfying blend of the scholarly and the not-so-scholarly, and her students seem to delight in "playing" as hard and as well as they work.

Darlene Loran and other members of the cast bring Good News to Pacific.

Our second annual Sports Queen Contest, sponsored by the Yearbook Staff, was an even greater success than the staff had hoped it to be. All the candidates worked hard, and they all deserve a lot of credit. The candidates sold tickets in school for 10 cents per ticket. The winners were announced at the San Leandro game during halftime. They then rode around the football field in convertibles. They were honored at the Sports Queen Dance the night of November 21, from 8:30-11:30 p. m.

All the candidates were sponsored by a club, organization, or class. These were: Honor Society, G. A. A., Office Machines, Merchandising Class, Slim Trim, Pep Club, News Staff, Book Club, Language Club, Chemistry Class, Cross Country, Boys P. E., and Art Service.

"Fun!" "Exciting!" "Neat!" were some of the words used to describe the Hello Dance. The event, sponsored by the Junior Class, was the first activity for the 1962-1963 school year. It was also the first opportunity for the sophomores to meet the upperclassmen.

Dancing the night away while cruising the romantic Caribbean are (in foreground) Jim Diaz and his date, Carol Favilla, and Sandy Mole and her date, Frank Schoolmaster.

Atmosphere for the third annual G. A. B. dance was created by the theme, "Caribbean Cruise." The dance, sponsored by the Spirit Society, was held on Nov. 9, 1962, and was rated as one of the most successful dances of the year.

"Soda Sippin' Shuffle" was the theme for Pacific's Valentine Dance. Sponsored by the Current staff, it was on February 15, from 8:30 until 11:30 in the cafetorium. The highlight of the evening was the announcement of the winners of the "Sweetheart Couple" contest. A big surprise was the tie vote of 196 votes for both couples, who were Vic Soares, Marilyn Souza, and Harry Gualco, Sue Hancock.

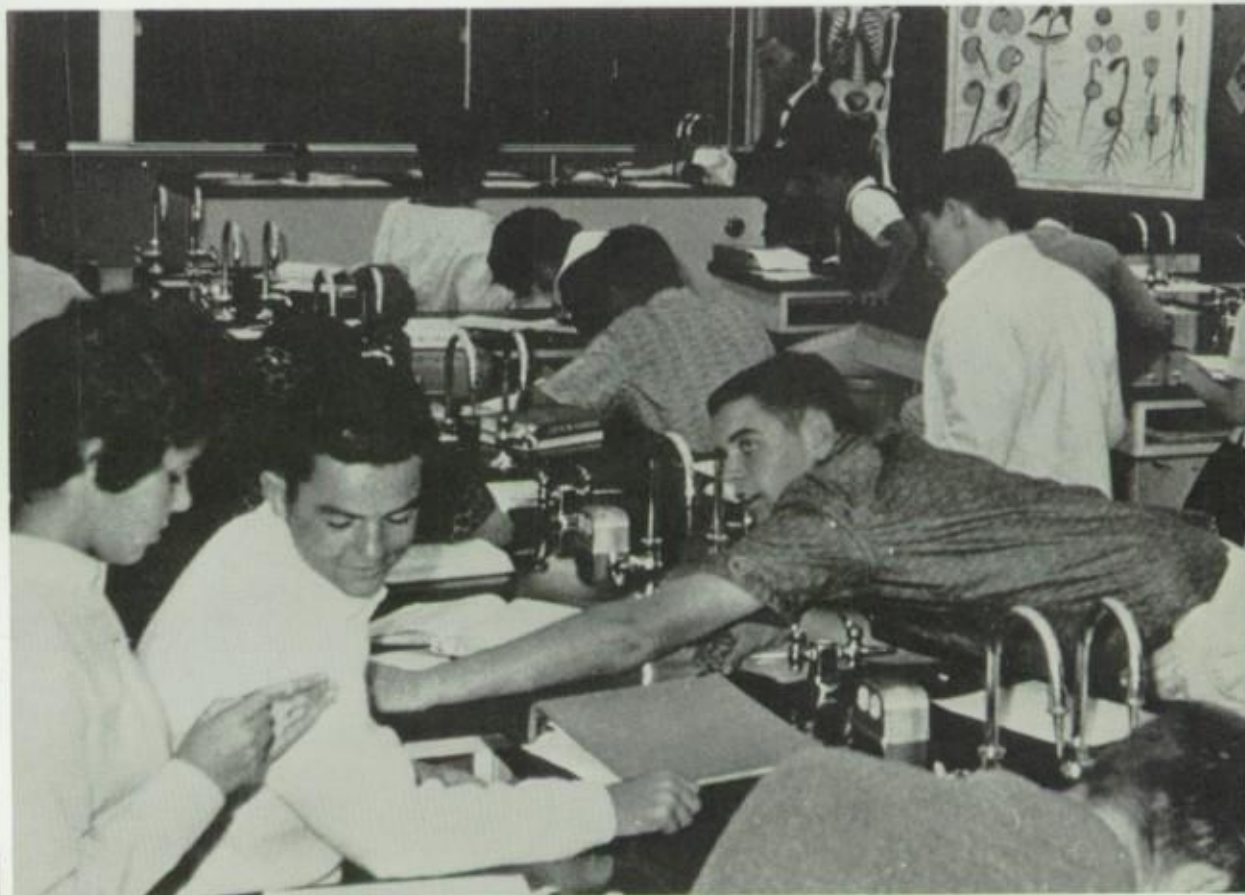

Jerry DeToro recieved a bag of candy for guessing the correct number of candy hearts in a jar on display in the lobby showcase. Runner-up, Tom Smith, split 1,687 candy hearts with Jerry.

"Good News" Comes

In a scene from the play are: Tom Brown, Gary Blakeman, and Bill Miller.

Good News was Pacific's first musical directed by Mr. Derrell Bond. A special matinee was presented for the students, and the play ran two consecutive nights.

Termed a "hit" by all who viewed it, Good News spread the word about Tom Marlowe (Larry Hawkins), the college lad whose astrology exam conflicted with his varsity football ambitions.

Culture Never Had it so Good!

Pacific's orchestra tunes up for the Annual Spring Concert in the gymnasium on April 26. Directing is Mr. Gordon Pappas.

Culture never had it so good, (Or should we say "big" ?) as when the eighth Annual San Leandro Festival of Music was held at Pacific on March 13. The program featured the All-City Elementary Band, as well as the combined John Muir and Pacific bands. Following it was the Spring Concert on April 26, which is pictured above.

Representing Pacific in the April Western Conference of Music Educator's Festival were Doug Skinner, saxophonist, and Claudia Salmela, vocalist. Doug also received a superior rating at the Bay Section Music Education Festival.

"My Sister Eileen"

Cruel, sarcastic Landlord Appoplous, played by Tom Brown, held poor Eileen and Ruth to a whole month's lease! In their dream apartment, Eileen (Claudia Salmela, Sheila Steele) and Ruth (Pam Turner, Kathy Paviglianti) were not too happy about sharing their kitchen with Wreck (Jerry Rosenfeld, Terry Kummel) but anything's better than fighting off Robert Baker (Rich Allan) and Chic Clark (Mike Oliver)!

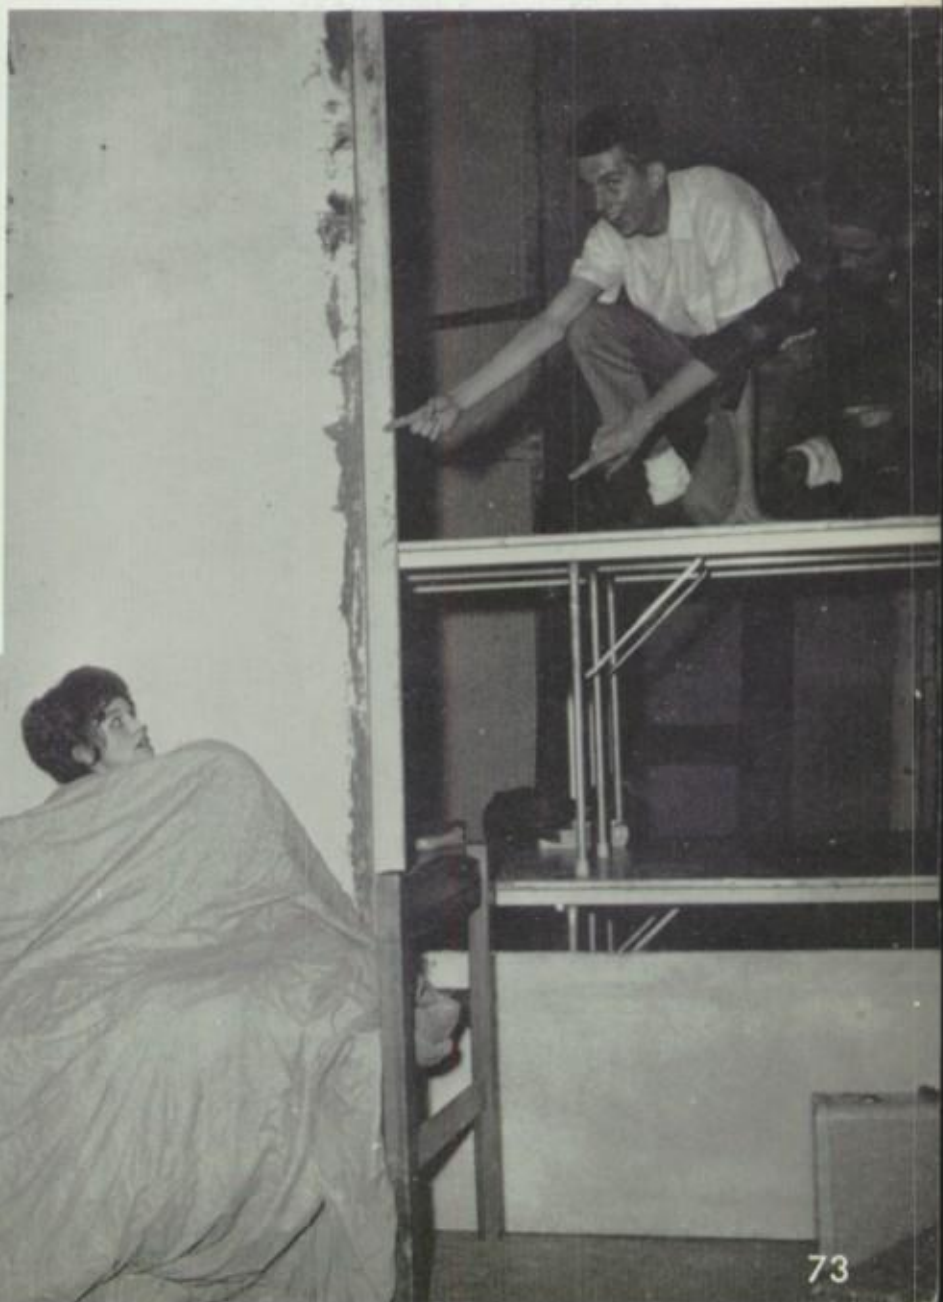

Thus went the story line for Pacific's spring term play, My Sister Eileen, given May 7, 8, 9 and 10, by the Creative Arts Department's drama classes.

"Ready or not, here I come!"

This fall, the first exchange rally between San Leandro High and Pacific was held. Mr. Richard Shaffer, director of student activities, worked hard to bring this event about. Pacific's cheerleaders and song girls journeyed across town to show the Pirates some Viking spirit. During the afternoon, Pacific demonstrated hospitality by welcoming cheerleaders and song girls from San Leandro High.

Alumni Game

The Pacific varsity of '63 defeated the alumni of '62 by the top-sided score of 62-41 in the first annual alumni game held at Pacific High, on Jan. 4.

Varsity and Alumni battle for victory.

St. Bede's Peanuts Basketball Team, the "Stars and the Stripes," gave variety to half-time.

The "Old Grads" proved that they didn't lose their school spirit.

And Dance

Reminiscing over old times was the main topic at Pacific's first Alumni Dance, held on March 20. Despite the heavy rain that night, many of the graduates from Pacific's first graduating class turned up and had a good time talking and dancing to a hi-fi.

Jim Burkett, Karin Bailey, and Dianne Corbett, Frank Silva talk over old times at Pacific.

Activities

"Others see" the wide variety of activities in full swing at Pacific. These vary from international groups, like Quill and Scroll and American Field Service to newer organizations like Quiet Fight and a Creative Writing Club. Basic to all student organizations are the Student Council and the Senate, which direct the affairs of Pacific's school community.

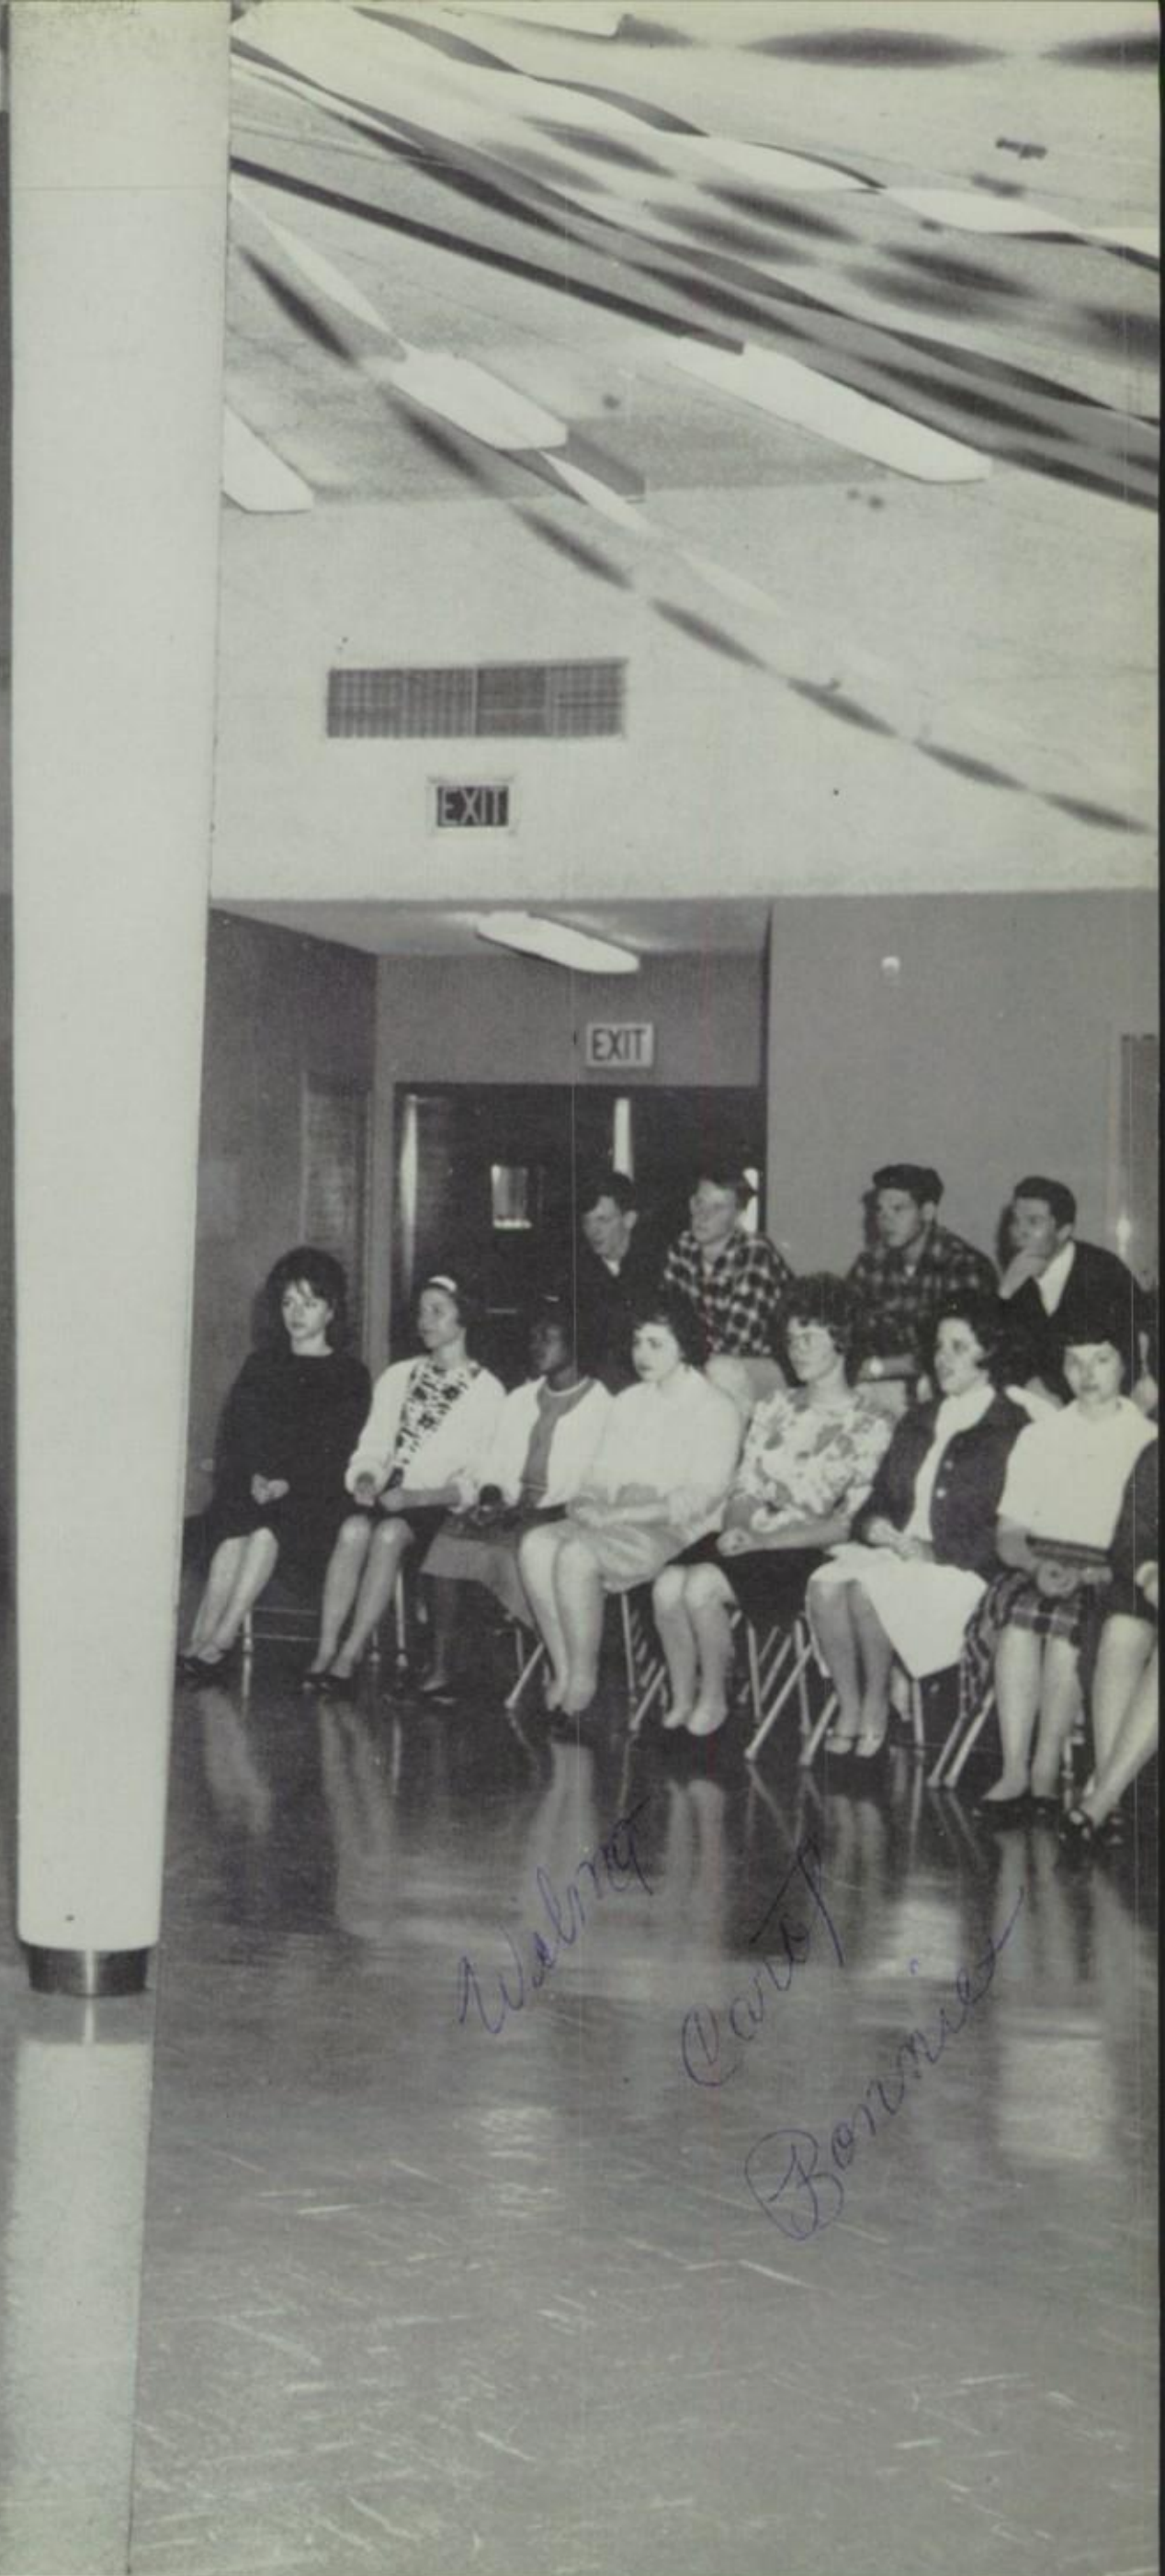

These and all the other groups help prepare us for future rolls in adult communities, where we hope "others see" us as responsible and energetic citizens.

Election Day Names

Jim Walker and JoAnn Dahl finish voting at the spring election.

Elections are one of the most critical phases of student government at Pacific, as well as any other high school. This year our spring election revealed the poor enthusiasm of many Vikings when approximately 450 of the 1100-member student body voted. A write-in campaign for "B.G." Gerhard for the office of student body president provided a surprising challenge to Ron Kruse and Andy McGuire; but Ron emerged the victor.

SECOND ROW: Donna Flanders, Kathy Vargas, Sue Nanini, Joyce Dal Porto, Sandie Furtney, Frank Villa, Julie Chancey, Fran King, Vic Soares, Don Samuel, Bob Ricardo, Deanna Daniels, Valerie Licciardo.

The purposes of the Student Council are to help promote the general welfare of the students, to provide democratic privileges and procedures in the school community and to encourage them in the community as a whole.

Among the decisions made by Student Council last fall were approval of sophomore, junior, and senior lawns between the gym and art wing, an exchange rally with San Leandro High, and use of student body funds to cover transportation costs for cheer leaders, song girls, band members, and similar groups attending sporting events.

Responsibilities of the Student Senate are to aid and to advise the Executive Council. The major job of the fall senate was assisting with the A.F.S. chocolate sale.

Through these students is shown the excellence of Pacific High School. Students who are outstanding in scholarship, service to the school, and athletics, are all equally important to a balanced school life. Without these students and many others with their standards, Pacific wouldn't have such a strong student body.

Awards are given only to students who demonstrate good character, who have shown good citizenship, and who have helped enrich the school community and, thereby, the whole community.

The Pacific Service Board (below) is dedicated to serving the school in anyway it can. The Board is composed of juniors and seniors maintaining a "C" average in scholarship and no "U's" in citizenship.

The members of the Service Board supervise the halls daily during the lunch hours. They serve as ushers at special functions, ticket-takers at games, and guides to visitors at Pacific. Members receive service points for fulfilling these duties. The goal of the P.S.B. is to "Make the Pacific Student Body the Pacific Service Board."

First formal initiation ceremonies for Pacific's Quill and Scroll took place March 14. As charter members Joyce McFadden and Brenda Paul watched, initiates from the Current and Valhalla staffs were pledged by Ellen Wolfe and Cheryl Lee, respectively. Charter member Carol Renner outlined the purposes of Quill and Scroll as being to "instill in students the idea of scholarship; to advance the standards of the profession of journalism by developing better journalists and by inoculating a higher code of ethics; to promote exact and dispassionate thinking, clear and forceful writing." Proposed projects include establishing a journalism scholarship fund, and visiting John Muir Junior High and Sophomore classes to encourage interest in the Journalism I class as preparation for the Current and Valhalla staffs.

Boosting the student body spirit at athletic events this year were members of the Spirit Society, formerly known as the Pep Club. The club shed its previous title in favor of one that more adequately and obviously clarified the group's major purpose at Pacific.

The annual G. A. B. dance, this year with a "Carribean Cruise" theme, was their major single event; however, members also served refreshments at the spring Norsemen dance, held to honor all schools in the Alameda County Athletic League, and planned a picnic as a spring weekend outing. All the activities were under the direction of Miss Georgia Steele, club advisor.

Norsemen Meet

A camera and projector for the athletic department, money for athletic films, and financial aid for any boy needing athletic equipment were the goals of Norsemen this year. To secure these, the Norsemen held various money-making projects. Norsemen became familiar sights to Vikings and visitors, as they managed the concessions at football and basketball games. The football hot dog business was so popular that the go-kart had to make several fast, extra trips between the kitchen and the concession stand. Another fund raising project was the candy sale, which lasted through the Christmas holidays. The Norsemen also sponsored a basketball game between the Oakland Raiders and the San Leandro District teachers on January 18. The membership of the Norsemen organization is open to all boys out for athletics at Pacific.

A "Viking" is not just someone who attends Pacific High School. He is the student who accepts the responsibilities which are part of life at Pacific; forming the backbone of this life are our lower classmen.

Sophomores must meet the challenges of adjusting to high school, both academically and socially. Juniors set their goals more firmly upon graduation and prepare to become the leaders of their school.

Through "the eyes of others" these are the true "Vikings" of Pacific.

The Junior Class opened the school year by sponsoring the first major event of the year, the Hello Dance. It was held in the quad on September 14. Their second event was the car wash, which was held in Macy's parking lot, on December 1. They also had a stock sale for fifty cents a share, with every buyer receiving a discount on his Junior Prom ticket. The biggest event of the year for the Juniors was their Junior Prom, held on May 3. As a finale to the school year they planned a Good-bye Dance the last day of school.

"How does it taste?" (Left: Lola Kelly and Sandy Clayton.)

"Oh, Susannah." (Leroy Garcia.)

Juniors, unlike sophomores, "know the score." They have a certain wisdom that is gained only through experience. They share a worldly sort of knowledge in common with the seniors.

The fun of Pacific-and the work-belongs to the juniors. They're a part of Pacific, now that they've survived the sophomore year, and they are heir to all of the traditional rites and customs of Pacific. In a sense, Pacific belongs to the Juniors, for all the fresh wisdom of its discovery is theirs.

Sophomores Support Active Class Board

The sophomores started out the year by finding their way around the school and getting themselves situated. Their first money-making project for the year was the "Sock Hop." They followed this by planning a spring car wash and the Soph Hop.

A future biological scientist?

The sophomore year plays an important part in the development of a Viking. Sophomores are constantly discovering facts about themselves and others. Initially, the discoveries may be limited to the fact that A-5 follows A-21!

The first discoveries are adapting to the Pacific that is classrooms, lawn, quadrangle, parking lot and gymnasium. The additional, and more important discoveries concern the soul of Pacific. The soul of Pacific is the spirit of the Vikings. Rallies, varsity games, clubs and organizations, as well as classroom work are all part of this spirit. For most sophomores this is a year of "firsts" ---- the first lab science course, biology; first introduction to driving, through Driver Education; first sore throat from yelling at a rally or game. The discoveries made as a sophomore become the foundation of further development of a Viking.

A sophomore has the chance to "See ourselves as others see us."

Sometimes there seems to be too much to do.

Sock Hop

The first school event of 1963 for the sophomores (as well as the rest of the student body) was the "Sock Hop" on January 4. It was held from 9:30 to 11:30 p. m. in the school cafeteria after the Alumni Basketball game. Prizes were given for the best decorated pair of socks, and music was provided by the ever-popular juke box.

Chairmen for the dance were: Barbara Thieme, head chairman; Bonnie Williams, publicity; Pam Cook, refreshments; and Bruce Reed, tickets.

Sports

To teenagers all over the world sports signify important and thrilling experiences. Almost everyone enjoys rooting for his school team on a crisp fall afternoon. It doesn't matter whether the game being played is football, rugby, or soccer; the spirit of good sportsmanship is still the same. In our own eyes, as well as the "eyes of others," Pacific's teams have exemplified this spirit.

The pigskin is placed in action at the "Big Game" of the season, Pacific vs. San Leandro.

Sports Queen

Reigning as this year's Sports Queen was Miss Dianne Corbett, senior student and former Princess. She and the two girls comprising her court tallied the most votes during the popular election held last fall. The junior girl capturing the title of Princess was Miss Bonnie Bone', on the left, and serving as Attendant and representative of the Sophomore Class was Miss Marilyn Souza.

Personalized caricatures of team members highlighted the fun at the Second Annual Senior Dinner for football players. Coach and Mrs. Tom Gunnari hosted the event at their Castro Valley home on December 5. In keeping with the season, ham and turkey topped the menu, and a Christmas tree brightened the decorations. The caricatures drawn by Jim Walker and signed by the team, later were displayed at school.

Perry McClelland scores Pacific's only touchdown of the "Big Game."

Varsity Season

Coach Tom Gunnari's hard fighting Varsity finished seventh in the A. C. A. L. competition of 1962. Outstanding players were Perry McClelland, Brad Lockhart, Don Brown, Joe Paiz, Benny Ramos, and Fred Cariss. This is the first year, in the A. C. A. L., that the Viking Squad has had a player make the All-League ranks. The team member is Brad Lockhart. Brad made the All-League defensive team as a linebacker. Probably one of the most disappointing games for the Vikings was our 20-6 loss in the "Big Game" against San Leandro High. Other "Heart Breakers" were the 12-12 tie with Berkeley, and the close 14-6 loss to El Cerrito. The Coach stated that "Without the entire team's effort and it's strong desire to win we couldn't have had the season that we did."

Junior Varsity Season

The Viking Junior Varsity ended its season with a two win and six loss record; however, most of the losses occurred by a narrow margin.

The entire team will be remembered for its "team effort," desire, and good sportsmanship while playing for Pacific High. Individual recognition for outstanding backfield plays goes to Mike Robinson, and James Geiser. The stalwart forward wall was sparked by the efforts of Reg Garcia, Frank Villa, James Brennen, and Dan Fuller.

The "seasoning" of this past season should aid the juniors who will be back with the Viking varsity in the 1963 campaign.

Soph Season

They did it again! Under the direction of coaches El Brown and Ed Foreman, the sophomore football team has part of the A. C. A. L. Championship. Undefeated until their last game the soph Vikings tied with Berkeley for champ honors. Leading them into this season was the pass catching combination of Darrell Youngblood and Tom Pozzotti. Their long bomb was a constant threat all season. Fine running by Wayne Childree, Ken Murray, and Gordy Goletto proved to be quite a problem for opposing teams too. The one heart-break of the season was the Viks 20-6 loss to a tough San Leandro squad.

Darrell Youngblood moves in for a shot against a Berkeley High player.

Brad Lockhart tries -- for two points against El Cerrito.

Although Pacific did not win a league game this year in Varsity basketball competition, improvement was made in almost all phases of the game. Toward the end of the season the team began playing good, hustling basketball which was evidenced by the fact that the Vikings out-rebounded four of their last eight opponents, who in most cases were taller and more experienced. The team spirit this year was the best ever, and we can look forward to a much better season next year with six returning lettermen.

Team records that were established this year were: game field goal percentage on the season - 35.4%; total rebounds 633. This year's highlights were 83-53 and 73-56 wins over Castro Valley and James Logan and a 49-48 overtime win over San Leandro in the Bishop O'Dowd Christmas Tournament. This year's team captain was Bob Nunes.

This year's handicap should prove next year's advantage for members of Pacific's J. V. basketball team. The disadvantage was the necessity of using several sophomore players on the J. V. team after J. V. players were moved up into varsity ranks; however, the pride and determination of the team kept it battling through the season and helped the members gain valuable experience for 1964. Stepping into the varsity ranks were Sophs Darrell Youngblood and Ken Murray, and Juniors Gregg Loscher and Harry Gualco, and Sophs Jack Cavin, Gordy Goletto, and Aubrey Rhine.

Sophomore boys going out for basketball must first go through a process of fundamentals: dribbling, pivoting, passing, shooting, defense, and offense; however, one of the most important things that all players practice is sportsmanship. There are two real team objectives: (1) to learn fundamentals, and (2) to apply these fundamentals in competitive games-win or lose. In either event the team members must work toward perfecting the basic principles of basketball. As they do this, they look forward to playing with the J.V. and even Varsity teams.

Outstanding players this year were Rich Coughlan, who played every game, and Aubrey Rhine, who was the high-scorer of the team; Rich and Aubrey were moved up to play J.V. Although they were not able to maintain the perfect record of last years team, the Sophs won nine games and lost four.

Mr. Perry Carter and Mr. Milburn Aldridge chalk one up for Pacific!

Varsity Fights Back

Ken Murray bounds up with the ball.

Tim Maihlo fights for the ball, while Fred Cariss gives moral support.

 SECOND ROW: Manager Tim Fadda, Manager John Corrigen, Lee Cordaway, Benny Ramos, Dennis Keeton, Dan Fuller, Brad Lockhart, Coach Johnston.

Varsity Baseball

Newark, Washington, and Westmoor, all fell under the Viking might, as our first practice games were victories. Our first League victory came as we shut out Alameda 3-0, in a game played here on April 2. An addition to our varsity schedule, was the invitational Easter Baseball tournament played at San Leandro ball park in April. The first home run of the season was hit by Fred Cariss over the left field fence, at a practice game against Oakland Tech. For this game, the Junior Varsity pitchers, Tim Benavides and Bruce Reed, had their first opportunity to pitch in a varsity game. The varsity squad was strengthened this year by returning lettermen, among them Seniors Vic Soares, Ron Kruse, and Brad Lockhart, catcher, pitcher, and short stop, respectfully.

Aubrey Rhine pitches a fast one to an Alameda player.

Pacific High's J. V. Baseball Team for 1963 was primarily composed of sophomores, giving Pacific a bright future to look forward to for at least the next two years. Some outstanding players of the year were: Sid Castro's and Gordy Goletto's hitting, Aubrey Rhine's and Tim Benavidez's pitching, and Jim Hardman's leadership.

Cross Country

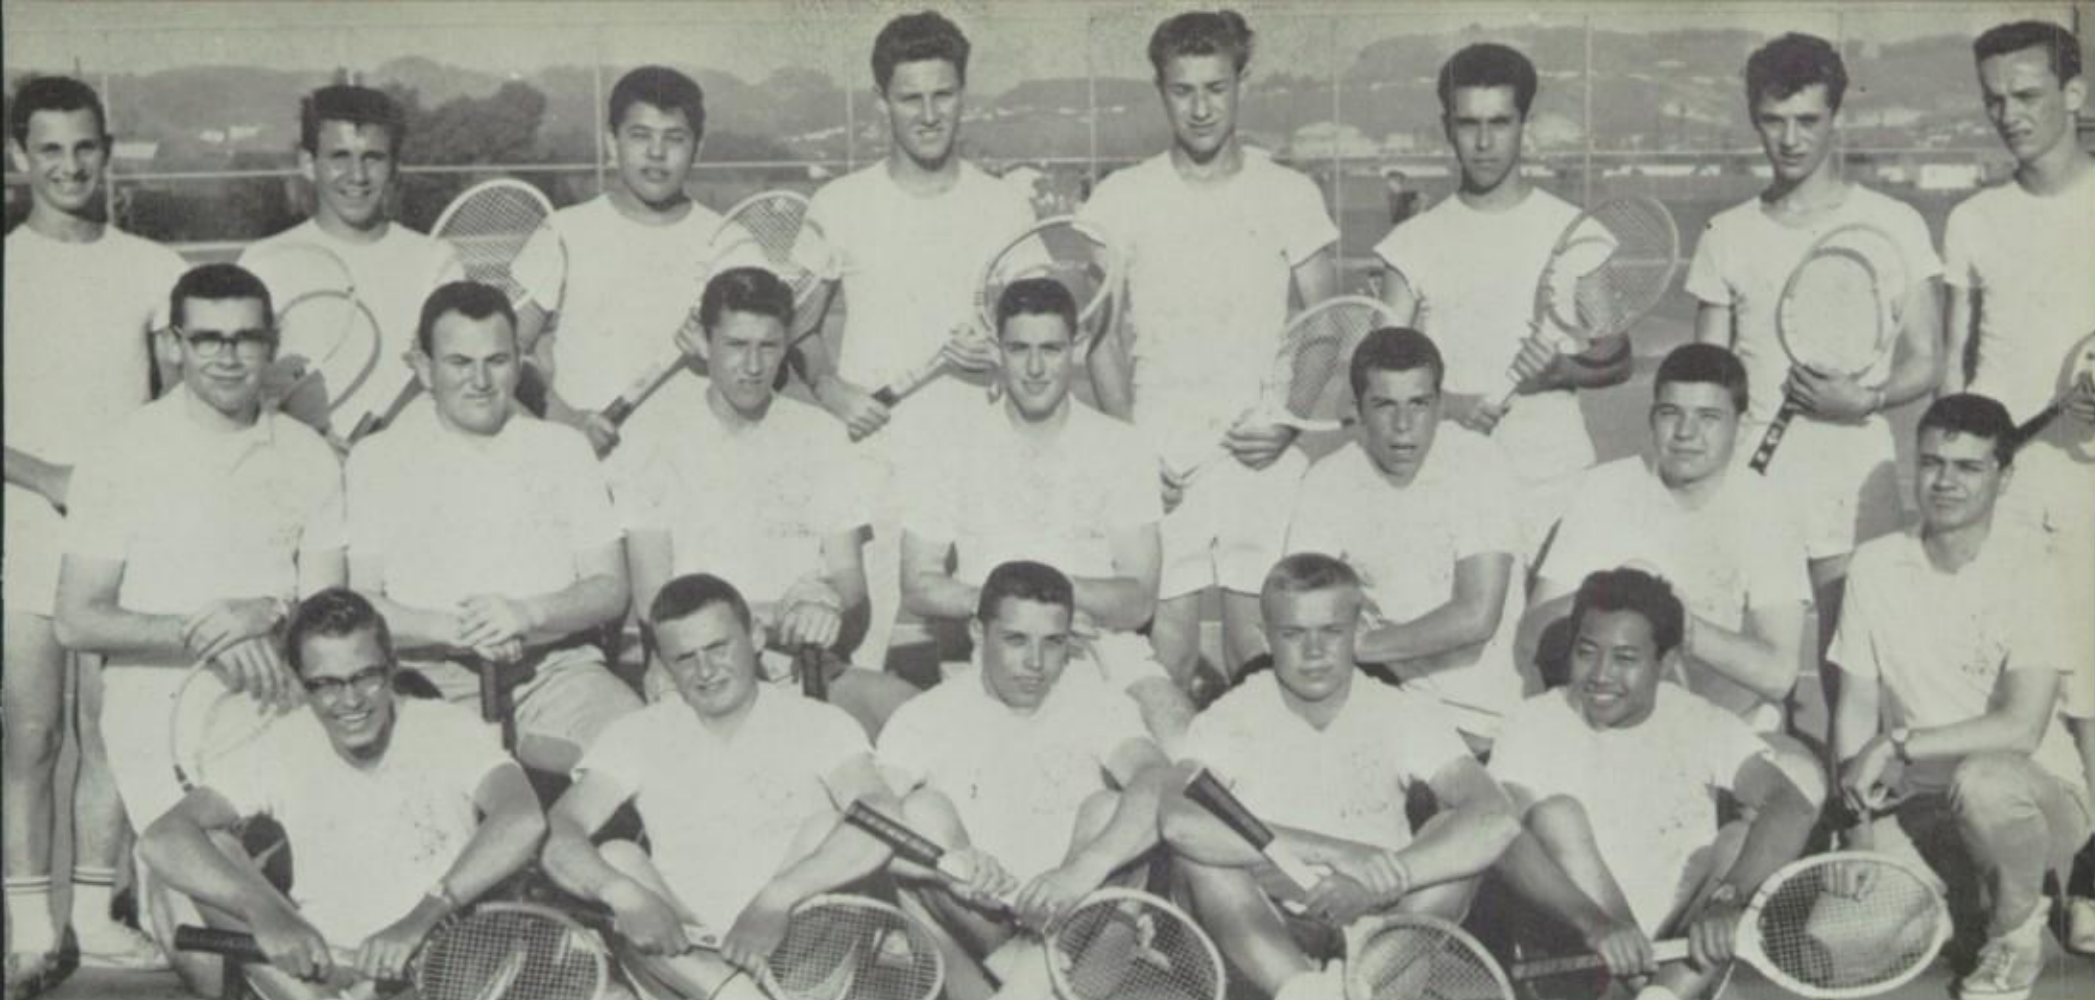

Although small in number, the Vikings Cross Country team experienced a fairly successful season. This year the high point came when sophomore runner Larry Bain took sixth place in the A. C. A. L. finals at De Anza High.

Gerry Bagley finishes sixth against Bishop O'Dowd...

and Cal Pierce finishes seventh.

Working with a limited number of returning lettermen, Coach Sherman Hall came through the season fairly well with his Viking trackmen. This year's outstanding trackmen were: pole vaulter, Mike Robinson, shot put, Charles Schembra, and "miler", Larry Bain.

Fitness

for Femmes

Mrs. Lyn Castelberry sways with the Polynesian Dance Club.

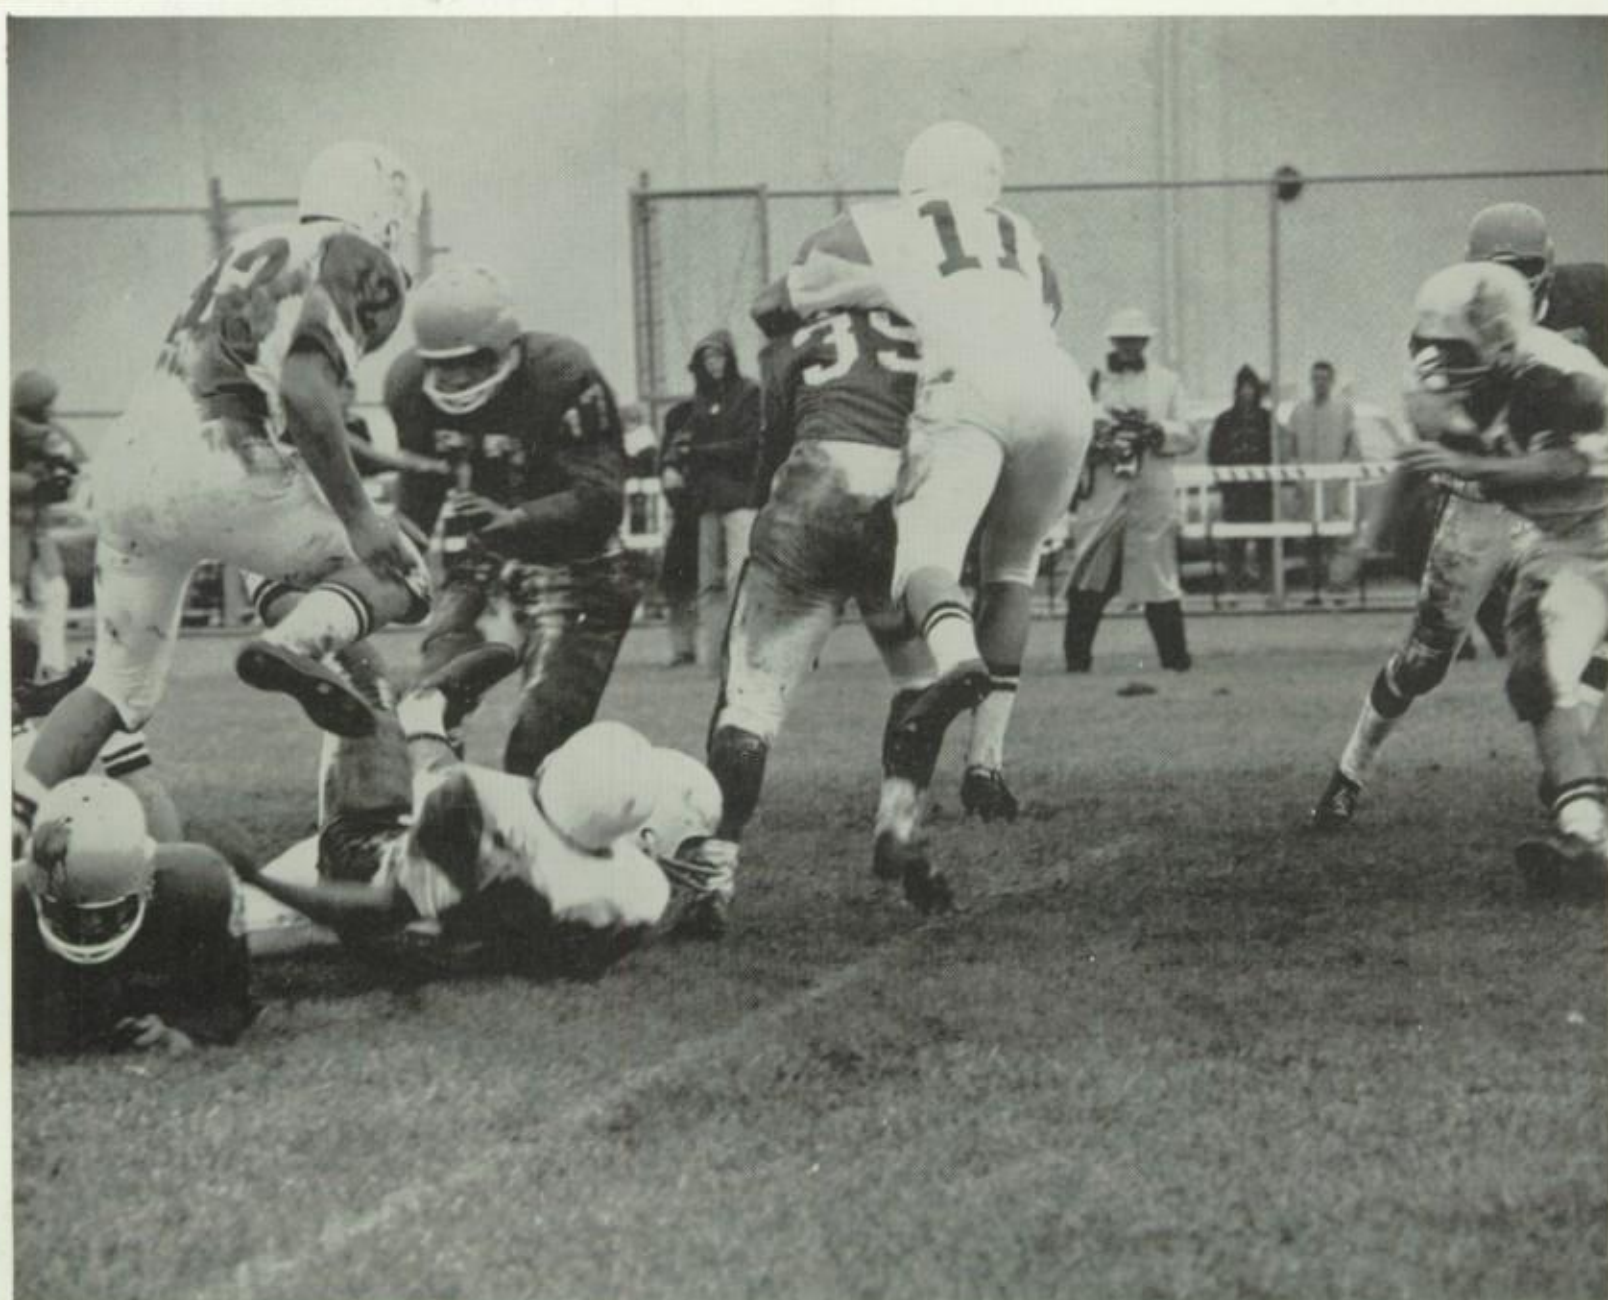

Sharon Caton and Donna Rowlands quietly contemplate their next modern dance mood.

"Fitness for Femmes" meant ACTION in the G. A. A. this year, which would win an approving smile from J. F. K.

The Girls' Athletic Association, with Kathy Yeghoian as its prexy, has been busy from the opening week of school, which started with members of the Tumbling Club and Dance Club performance in the All-Girls' Assembly to orient the new female students at Pacific to school activities.

In September, the G. A. A. organized its schedule of after-school activities. This program was launched by ten weeks of hockey that ended in the first annual "Turkey Classic," won by the seniors.
